DETAILED ACTION

- I. Rejection of claims 1-3,5-21 under 35 USC 112, 2nd paragraph will not be maintained. Reference numbers in the claims referring to diagrams in the specification has been deleted from the claims.
- II. Rejection of claims 1-3,5-21 under 35 USC 102(b) as being anticipated by Fukuda will be maintained for reason on record and reason as follows. Applicant argues "There is nothing inherently wrong with defining some part of the invention in functional terms". Applicant argues that LANDIS treatise on patent drafting, pages III-42, II 43, and III-44 makes a similar point. Examiner agrees with Applicant. However, Examiner argues that just because functional language is stated in a claim does not make the claim patentable. In a claim to a device wherein all the components of the device are taught as part of a prior art device a mere mention of functional language for components of the device does not render the claim patentable over the prior art. In the case of a device if the prior art teaches the same device plus all of the components of the device, it is inherent that the prior art device and the instant device would have the same utility or function; and therefore, the instant invention would not be patentable over the prior art device.
- III. Claim 22 is allowable. The prior art does not teach or suggest a device having the limitations of the device in claim 22.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
